

MTNA 2014 Fellow

George Litterst

George Litterst, a graduate of Vassar College and New England Conservatory, has had a long and distinguished career as an educator, clinician and performer. Litterst is an internationally recognized expert on distance learning and artistic applications of the Yamaha Disklavier. He is a “Random Access” columnist for American Music Teacher magazine, technology editor for Clavier Companion magazine and regularly contributes to many other publications. Two products—the Yamaha Disklavier and Litterst’s own software creation Home Concert Xtreme—have been awarded the MTNA Frances Clark Keyboard Pedagogy Award under his guidance.

The Music Teachers National Association Foundation Fellow program offers a meaningful method for honoring deserving individuals while supporting the efforts of the MTNA Foundation Fund through a donation to the Foundation Fund in an individual's name.
